Our approach to overseas disclosure

Before disclosing your personal information overseas, we take reasonable steps to ensure that the recipient treats your information in accordance with applicable law by only sending what is necessary, requiring recipients to protect your information through contractual agreements which require the recipient to comply with the privacy standards in applicable law or through other mechanisms that provide comparable safeguards and by monitoring how recipients handle your information.

Your privacy rights and choices

Providing information

You can choose whether to provide personal information to us, however, if you don't provide certain information, we may not be able to provide some services. Let us know if you don't want to provide information and we will let you know when information is required versus optional.

Access to your information

You can request access to the personal information we hold about you and we will respond to your request within a reasonable time. We may charge a reasonable administrative fee for providing access and if we cannot provide access, we will explain why and explore alternative ways to share relevant information.

Correction rights

You can ask us to correct any information that is inaccurate, out of date, incomplete, irrelevant or misleading and we will take reasonable steps to correct your information promptly. If we cannot make the correction, we will explain why and discuss alternatives. You can ask us to add a statement to your information noting your requested correction.

Marketing communications

You can opt-out of receiving marketing communications at any time. Each marketing communication will include an unsubscribe option. You can change your marketing preferences by contacting us. We will process your request as soon as practicable.

How to contact us about your rights or to make a complaint and what happens next

Step 1: Contact our privacy officer

Public information

Please note that any information you choose to share publicly on online platforms (such as comments or reviews) can be accessed and used by others. We cannot control or protect information that you make publicly available.

How long we keep your information

We keep your personal information only as long as we need it for the purposes we collected it, or as required by law. When we no longer need it, we securely destroy or de-identify it.

Cookies and Analytics

What We Use

We use cookies, tracking pixels, and similar technologies on our website and in our emails to improve your experience and our services.

Cookies

- Small text files stored on your device
- Help remember your preferences
- Enable certain website functions
- Make your interactions with our website more efficient

Tracking Pixels

- Tiny, invisible images in web pages and emails
- Help us understand how you interact with our content
- Allow us to measure email engagement
- Enable more relevant content delivery

How we use these technologies

Essential Functions

- Remember your login status
- Maintain your session security
- Store your preferences
- Enable core website features

Analytics and Performance

- Understand how our website is used
- Measure page views and traffic
- Analyse user navigation patterns
- Identify areas for improvement

Personalisation

- Remember your preferences
- Tailor content to your interests
- Improve your browsing experience
- Provide relevant recommendations

Your control

You can manage these technologies by:

- Adjusting your browser settings to block or delete cookies
- Using privacy-focused browser extensions
- Configuring your email client to block images
- Using our cookie preference settings

Note: Blocking all cookies may affect website functionality and your user experience.

Google Analytics

We use Google Analytics to understand how people use our website. This involves cookies that collect information about your browsing activity. You can opt out of Google's advertising features through your Google account settings, browser add-ons, or your device's privacy settings. Google provides various tools and options to control how your data is used for advertising purposes. You can learn more about how Google uses your data and your available options on Google's privacy pages.

Meta advertising tools

We use Meta's advertising tools (such as Meta Pixel) to understand how our ads perform and to show you more relevant advertisements on Meta platforms like Facebook and Instagram when you visit our website or app. You can manage whether we connect information from our website with your Meta account for advertising purposes by adjusting your settings within your Meta account preferences.

Artificial Intelligence (AI) Technologies

Overview

We use artificial intelligence and machine learning technologies in our business operations and services, including AI tools provided by third parties. We only use these technologies when legally permitted and necessary for our business.

How we use AI

We may use AI technologies to:

- Automate routine tasks and communications
- Personalise your experience with our services
- Support quality assurance processes
- Assist with customer support and queries

Data protection and security

When we work with third-party AI providers, we ensure they handle your personal information in accordance with privacy laws through contractual requirements and appropriate safeguards.

Your rights and our commitments

Any information generated or inferred about you by AI technologies is treated as personal information, and you maintain all the rights outlined in this privacy policy. When using AI with your personal information, we commit to:

Transparency and control

- We'll inform you when AI is used to make decisions that may significantly affect you
- We maintain human oversight and review of significant AI-generated decisions
- Our staff are trained to understand AI limitations and verify outputs before relying on them
- We implement processes to verify the accuracy of AI-generated outputs

Security

- We use appropriate technical and organisational measures to maintain the security and integrity of your personal information
- We regularly test and monitor AI outputs for accuracy and reliability

Risk mitigation

- We regularly assess and document risks associated with using AI to process personal information
- We implement appropriate measures to address these risks
- We continuously monitor AI performance and regularly review their impact

Amendments

We may update this policy at any time by posting the revised version on our website. We recommend that you review our website regularly to stay current with any policy changes.
